Employer Tools & Resources

Welcome to the Future of Workplace Injury Treatment

OrthoLive Remote Injury Care utilizes telemedicine to treat work-related injuries from the jobsite. Your employees can use any internet browser to access convenient minor injury care and treatment.

Our HIPAA-compliant platform enables employees to securely connect with licensed clinicians on any device so they can get back to work quickly and safely while reducing costs and minimizing lost revenue for employers.

Why Telemedicine?

Employers are looking for ways to reduce healthcare costs, expand access to care, and improve employee health outcomes - all of which can be done by leveraging telemedicine.

More employers around the nation are realizing the value of telemedicine, and because you have decided to offer this valuable resource, we believe you will see benefits that will positively impact your workforce and your bottom line.

Advantages of Remote Injury Care

Convenience. Employees can get treated promptly following an injury 24/7 – without leaving work in most cases.

Expertise. Our team of certified orthopedic professionals can treat most injuries through telemedicine and are trained specifically to administer care using the telemedicine platform.

Security. Our telemedicine platform uses HIPAA-compliant technology to ensure your employees' protected health information (PHI) is not compromised.
